MINORITY REPORT TO BE SUBMITTED

House: Bill to Abolish State Farm Department Introduced.

The three members of the committee who voted against the favorable report announced that they would sübmit a minority report on the bill, thereby carrying the fight to the floor of the house. The report is expected to reach the floor immediately, but action is not likely for several days and perhaps not until cext week. The bill to abolish the present veterinary department also won the approval of the "farm bloc" of the house at the first meeting of that group which was held Monday night at the Robert Fulton hotel. The bloc voted to join with the judiciary committee in an effort to bring about passage of the measure. The bill is the first to be supported by the bloc. Monday night's meeting was presided over by Representative A. S. Johnson, of Mondgomery county, chairman of the bloc.

The committee's action was the highlight of Monday's legislative action.

News that the constitutional amend-ent abolishing "lame duck" sessions congress had been ratified by the equired 36 states brought an expreson of satisfaction today from Presiint-elect Roose elt.
"That makes me very happy," held newspapermen, "because the state of New York was the first legally to ratify the amendment. month on numbers of small bills. Although no single payment amounts to much (not enough to satisfy the creditors), the total of all the small payments places a terrible strain on a moderate monthly income. You can pay up all such small obligations at once with a Master Loan, free yourself from worry, and have just one payment to make each month. Because you have as long as 20 months to repay your loan, your monthly payments will be much less than the total of the monthly payments on many scat-

The bill, as provided by the committee, provides for $3 tags for all passenger vehicles and motorcycles and retains the present schedule for

Though some opposition is expected

Though some opposition is expected to the bill, its passage by the house is forecast by legislative leaders.

Strong efforts to obtain passage of the bill by a substitute providing for a graduated scale of tag prices instead of the flat $3$ rate probably will be made today, it was said Monday night as authors of various substitute measures went into a conference with a view of consolidating their strength. Several motor tag bills already introduced were being planned for use as substitutes in today's motor tag action of the house, and other substitute bills were said to have been drawn. Two bills read Monday at the meeting of the motor vehicle committee of the house were postponed in order that they may be offered as substitutes. One of these, by John C. Beasley, of Tattnall, cuts the present graduated scale approximately in C. Beasley, of Tattnall, cuts the present graduated scale approximately in half, with a minimum rate of $5.50. The other, by B. S. Elliott, of Henry, is known as the three-year bill. It applies a minimum rate of $3 after a car is two years old, the present scale of prices remaining in effect during the first two years.

It is currently reported about the capitol that senate amendments will force the bill into conference and that leaders of both houses already have leaders of both houses already have agreed that in its final form the bill will provide $3 tags for small cars, $5 and $6 tags for medium-sized cars and $10 tags for large cars.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(P)—
Though aimed to do away with legislation by defeated congressmen, the twentieth amendment carries no specific prohibition against it, and it does permit the barest chance of a defeated congress meeting.
This could come about in two ways: First, the second regular session of a congress could continue straight through campaign season and election time. One chance in a thousand of that.

Second, after the election, which is never earlier than November 2 and never later than November 8, the president could call a special session. This would be forced to adjourn by noon, January 3. Trade Is Brisk at Annual Mule Auction Here

Although most Atlantans are not aware of it, their city, among other things, is the second largest mule market in the world, and Monday the annual mule private and public auction sales were begun at the stock yards. According to Cliff Ragsdale, of the mule-trading firm of Ragsdale, Lawhon, Weill Company, the highest price paid was $335 for a single mule, while a $5 bill bought the cheapest animal. The average price was $100, Mr. Ragsdale said. The trading was more brisk than it has been in the last two years, it was said, and approximately 1,500 mules were sold. Justice Brandeis, however, pointed out that the tariff act provisions were first written in 1922. The treaty came two years later in the wake of a series of protests from Great Britain over the seizing of her ships outside the three-mile territorial limit recognized by international law. The 1930 law, Brandeis said, was simply a rewriting of that of 1922 and there was nothing to show that congress intended it to change the treaty in any way. any way.

Depression Has Hit Bottom J. W. Knox Asserts in Taik.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—(AP)—The supreme court today held international treaties above domestic law, ruling that British and Canadian run-running vessels cannot be seized if they are more than one hour's sailing from the American shore even though inside the 12-mile limit prescribed by the artiff act.

The decision disallowing the seizure of the Nova Scotian runner Mazel Tov off Massachusetts in 1930, possibly averted serious friction with Canada. The latter through its minister in Washington last December informed the state department that unless the policy laid down today by the highest court were followed, his government would regard the antismuggling treaty with this country as practically nullified.

This treaty, put in force in 1924, set the seizure limit at one hour's sailing. That means that a boat capable of traveling but 11 miles an hour cannot be seized 11 1-2 miles off shore. The tariff act of 1930 says seizures shall be made out to a 12-mile limit. The Mazel Tov was boarded 11 1-2 miles out. A motor serve ship, her best speed is not over 10 miles an hour.

Collecting. It used to be said that "when good Americans die they go to Paris." What happens to them now seem: un-certain. Judging from what some prominent men have said about France and the French since the refusal to pay the December installment of the debt, it is advisable to look for other quarters in the hereafter. For one thing emerges above all doubt. There are many Americans who no longer think of Paris as a sort of heaven. Still all these things can be smoothed senator from Oregon has suggested that America seize enough French territory to make good the amount of any debt which might be repudiated. Good idea, by Heck! For instance American might annex a couple of Pa-risian boulevards, the Folies Bergere, the Moulis Reuse and a few other the Moulin Rouge and a few other joints like that. Those cellars in Reims where one billion bottles of champagne are wasting away may be included. All this might wipe out quite a bit of the capital sum involved. In the end, I fear, it is the French who would be such a world be such a world be such as the control of the capital sum involved. would benefit. There would be such a crowd of Americans flocking over to this side merely to see the annexed territories that the French would rub their hands and chuckle with delight. All those Americans would have to eat, wouldn't they? Hm, leave it to the Parisians to charge them for their meals. And all the other financial souvenirs they would leave behind... It Isn't Winning That Makes the Great Lawyer, But Methods He Refuses To Use BY LEADING SPONSORS

-By Robert Quillen-If you wish to know how a man will handle large affairs, observe how he handles small ones. If you wish to know whether he will deal justly and sensibly with many servants, observe how he deals with one. If this is a fair and reasonable way to judge men, you now have the evidence by which to measure statesmen on whom the nation depends for salvation.

Consider the Byrd case. Byrd is a member of an organized group of citizens whose object is national economy. One economy suggested by him and his group would deny compensation to disabled veterans whose disability had no connection with their war service. Men disabled 15 years after a brief service in uniform, said he, should not be supported by taxpayers.

For this he was immediately and furiously attacked by statesmen who did not agree with him. "You have no right to criticize," they said, "for you are drawing disability pay of $4,200 a year from the government. How can you condemn others for doing the very thing you are doing yourself?" That sounds convincing, doesn't it? But wait.

Why does a surgeon deserve more pay than a ditch digger? Because of the years he spent learning his trade and the greater service he renders. Byrd spent years learning his trade and deserved the pay of an officer. When a leg injury made him unable to stand a four-hour watch, he was placed on the retired list. But he was recalled to active service and now earns every cent he draws. This is the testimony of the chief of navigation, and the facts are known to Byrd's critics.

In what way is he guilty of the practice he condemns if he was injured in service and the veterans were not? In what way is his case similar to theirs if he is still in service while they were discharged long ago? If he draws compensation unjustly, he should be required to return it; if he is legally and justly entitled to the compensation he receives, why doesn't he share the right of every free and honest citizen to con-

It isn't the injustice to Byrd that matters. But the effort to injure his cause by placing him in a false light is a shyster trick. It is the trick of a high-town lawyer who convicts an innocent man of crime by telling Such tricks may indicate shrewdness, since they get results, but does

The democratic platform in last year's campaign contained the strongest indorsement of sound currency ever written in a platform of either party, even in normal times when it was easy to indorse sound money. On top of this are repeated campaign declarations of Mr. Roosevelt to the effect that, as he said at St. Louis, October 21, "the obligations of the federal government," including, of course, its currency, "are paramount." No one, not even those who lack certainty about the continuity of Mr. Roosevelt's convictions in some other respects, believes he would ever countenance currency inflation.

About Mr. Roosevelt's point of view on sound currency, there is indirect but convincing evidence in a detail of his action on Friday about foreign debts. It became known that Mr. Roosevelt wishes these debts to be haudled in such a manner that as one of the consequences Great Britain may get back on the gold strateging

There is further indirect evidence in the well-founded rumors that Mr. Roosevelt would like to have Senator Glass, of Virginia, to be his secretary of the treasury. But currency inflation will hardly take place in America.

It is true there will be legislation for the relief of debtors, but it will not take the form of inflation. The more probable type seems headed to take the form of action which will facilitate reduction of debt and compromises on debt. Someone to Love

-by Vernie Connelly-

After Kay Bishop's high-powered roadster crashes into June Varick's coupe on Pilot Knob in the Osarks, both girls return to consciousness in June's home in the town of Rolla, where they are cared for by June's father, Dr. Varick, Kay's vrm is broken and June's leg is in splints. Under her mother's will, Kay will isherit a large fortune if she does not marry against the wishes of her brother, Bruce, who is five years older. She will soon be 21. Kay warns June not to fall for Bruce when he arrives, as he has no use for girls. Bruce does not approve of Ramon Jovieno, an impoverished young Italian count, whom Kay met abroad. She wires him secretly and he hurries to Rolla, but leaves after veeing her twice in Bruce's absence. When Kay's arm mends and she and the tall handsome Bruce are about to leave, he will not admit even to himself that he is in love but he asks June if he may come to see her, and June is thrilled when he kisses her good-bye. June is imme when the splints are removed. Dr. Varick dies anddealy as he is about to take her to New York to the famous Dr. Henderson, his classmate. When she goes to New York later. Bruce auticipates her every want. Dr. Henderson operates successfully. When she is dismissed from the hospital unexpectedly on Christmas Eve, she thinks Bruce has been unable to return from a business trip to California. She is blue and depressed in her hotel room, when he telephones, askitg her to dine with him. She meets him in the lobby. Bruce tells June he loves her but asks her to wait until he is sure of himself. He takes her to Kay's New Year's Eve party at the Gilt Cage. —any large city, in fact—between six and seven.

The next evening was worse, and at the end of the third day, June was at the breaking point. The thought of eating alone terrified her. She put on her hat and went to sit downstairs. She bought a paper in the lobby, then sat down in one of the armchafrs. Pretending to read, she was, in reality, studying the people, many of whom were evidently in the same mood she was.

It was men, for the most part, who sat there. She had no thought of making casual acquaintances. She was there, because it was the center of the point where she would go up the few steps that led into the big, cold main dining room. But she would rather go without food; it was tasteres, unsavoured by companionship.

Then, the strange, rather weind thing happened which was to lead to such singular changes in her life. A man with black, crinkly hair, light blue eyes, and a tiny mustache sat in the chair next to hers. Curiously, she had watched him take a handker-chief from his pocket, and surreptitiously behind the barricade of his paper, wipe his eyes. They were red and bloodshot. Also, he did not turn was beaded with perspiration, the bloodshot eyes were glazed with misery.

"Don't be cruel," June exclaimed.

"He's unhappy."

"You'd better be after thankin' the young lady for savin' your life—if it is worth savin'," the detective said.

"It is in'." the man muttered, mopping his wet brow with a fine linen handkerchief.

"Come now, what's the idea of sittin' down in the middle of a lot of folks and takin' poison?"

"The truth is," the man blurted out, prodded by questioning, "I was too damned lonesome to stay by myself long enough to commit suicide."

"You can't get away with that, buddy . ."

"How do you know he couldn't be that lonesome?" demanded June. "I'm lonesome myself ."

The man straightened nimself and looked at June for the first time. "Then you know." he began slowly, "when dinner time comes . "

"Yes, I do; but I wouldn't take my life . "

"Maybe you have hope . I've lost everything . "

"The depression, eh?" queried the officer, a little more kindly. 'It gets a lot of good ones. Are you a guest of the hotel?"

"Yes, I'm in 2640. My name is Hart." He stood up, eveing June with the bottle in her hand.

The officer reached for it. "Give it to me. Miss—he won't be needin' it in this hotel. You better check out, Hart."

"Let him alone," June said "I think you are making a mistake. Mr. Hart, would you like to take me to dinner in the grill downstairs?"

"Now, Miss, a nice girl like you shouldn't be takin' up with a suicide bum . . "I don't think he's a bum, officer. Something has made him terribly unhappy—can't you see? Will you

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!

Society. of which Mrs. Franklin Society. Of which Mrs. Pranklin You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle. Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine. Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

We have a large herd of cattle and hundreds of chickens. You can see that when all this work is don, there is no time left for pleasure. I was voted the prettiest and healthiest girl in my district, but what does this get me? I am not allowed to go with the boys to a show or a party, though dad knows I don't smoke or drink or pet. I have never had a disagreement with my dad except one—I went to my stepmother's church, leaving his church. I get on splendidly with my stepmother and with her children. This all goes to show that it is not my fault that I am held down and refused the pleasures that other young people of my age enjoy. Now what can I do? I don't mind working. I love my home, but I am not happy because I have no social life.

Answer: Perhaps your father will not object to having the young people come to your home and with the stepmother's sympathy and assistance you might arrange some parties on Saturday night or even a week-end house party occasionally. Older people hear wild tales of the outrageous doings of the modern young people and foolishly imagine all young people are guilty of indiscretions that compromise. But then when they are thrown with them and see that the so-called wild conduct is nothing more or less than the playful gamboling of lambs, they have to revise their snap judgments. Crackers Must Dispose of Eight Players To Carry Out '33 Plans

Is There a 'Caveat Emptor' Label on Cousin Joe's Sales?

I fear the players come to the Crackers bearing that label because Cousin Joe Engel comes of an old distinguished Greek family known as Joesopolus Engelopolus. And every school boy knows that the Greeks left a wooden horse for the citizens of Troy to play with and that it eventually caused the sacking of Troy so that a saying, "Beware of Greeks bearing gifts" came to be familiar to every schoolboy.

Cousin Joe Engel was sent a wire asking if he had sold the Crackers good, sound ball players or whether he had sent some kees were distinctly lefthanded, inasgifts. A reply came back, "Am going to give Crackers all the eggs the hen lays that won't make an omelette." And it was signed "Big Hearted Joe."

Now, it is a truth that he is a big-hearted fellow who will administer to one's needs most carefully. Even to sending out the next morning for cans of tomatoes which are good for certain troubles. He will give away his last cent or his last shirt. But when it comes to his baseball deals he is a veritable hoss trader and will skin his best

The Cracker officials this year are new officials and they do not know the Chattanooga president well. And so I hope they have some clauses in those sales papers which will give them a second look-see at the players. Because Cousin Joe Engel always pastes those little Caveat Emptor labels on all his sales. And if he stings you in a baseball deal he will laugh very coarsely right in your face.

COWS-NOT PLAYERS.

One of my operatives feels sure that he has discovered who is scouting for the Crackers this season. It is none other than Colonel Tillinghast L'Hommedieu Huston, the chief advisor and a member of the board of directors.

"I feel sure that the Crackers may expect some ball players from up in North Carolina," said the operative. "Colonel Huston left Atlanta Sunday morning, saying he was going up into North Carolina to buy some cows.

'Now, everyone knows that the Crackers are in need of some pitchers and so I do not believe for one minute that Colonel Huston is going up into North Carolina to buy cows. think he is going to buy pitchers.'

I am very sorry to disillusion my operative but it seems that Colonel Huston is going to buy some cows and not some pitchers. His big dairy barn at Butler Island burned slap down to the ground and destroyed a lot of cows. And so he is filling up the new barn. It also seems that he is paying something like $1,000 each for his cows as he will have nothing but the best. "I wish I could persuade the colonel to go around and buy up a hundred or so pitchers at $1,000 each," said Mr. Wilbert Robinson, the president of the Crackers, as he saw his chief advisor and member of the board, off on the cow-buying journey.

Mr. Wilbert Robinson is trying to buy some pitchers and they are much scarcer than good milch cows and cost more. Even though they are not as practical as a good milch cow

THE OLD HOLDOUT.

Far be it from this reporter to go around kicking ash cans down steps or yelling things to attract the attention of baseball owners, but it would be a very smart thing if the admission prices of 75 cents for grandstands and 50 cents for the bleachers, were reduced somewhat before next April.

Because there are any number of good faithful baseball fans who cannot attend at present prices. And they have an argument which seems to be sound. Their argument is that the price of every commodity has come down. The movies are cheaper, football prices are down as much as 50 cents and $1, but baseball still holds to the same old prices.

The great minds of the game point out that two leagues, the Texas and the late Southeastern league, tried reducing prices last season and did not accomplish anything but ruin thereby.

This argument is not sound because prices in the Texas league were reduced after the start which was an admission that the show was worth no more than that. And the people who had begun to suspect so stayed away in larger numbers than before, figuring that they had lost money on the early games. The Southeastern was going under, prices lower or no.

I do not believe the owners will agree to lowering the prices. But if they do not they are going to find a lot of the old faithful who will become holdouts beginning with the opening game and remain holdouts until the last game is played in September. I know this because there are a number of letters on hand and a number of fans have gone to the trouble to call by the office and say so in very firm tones. They know they are going to see cheaper baseball and so they want better prices.

And a hold-out campaign by the fans would be much more serious than any player holdout yet encountered.

COMMODORES STEP OUT.

And just to prove that basketball dope is just as uncertain as any other brand, Mercer won from Georgia. Mercer was trampled last Saturday night by the Georgia Tech team, which won almost as it pleased. And what happened when Tech and Georgia met? Why, Georgia won. So you never can tell.

Vanderbilt's defense was almost airtight. Samuels, leading scorer last year, was held to one point. And Torrence, who was third high scorer in 1932, was held to a couple of points.

GOMEZ ACCEPTS AND SIGNS PACT

Don Brennan, Former Cracker, Signs With Yankee Club.

By Alan Gould,

Cousin Joe Engel, the old Latin scholar of Chattanooga, has sold the Crackers a couple of ball players and I am wondering if they come labeled "Caveat Emptor?"

Caveat Emptor, as you knew all along, is an old Latin saying which, being freely translated, means, "If the buyer is stung all he can do is moan."

Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Deftly side stepping, for the time beging, the ask of wheeling their biggest guns into line, the New York Iankees engineered a flanking movement in their contract campaign today, thereby capturing the signed documents of a second-string backstop, two recruit pitchers, and, last but not least, the celebrated Castillian southpaw, Senor Vernon Gomez. Associated Press Sports Editor.

After a second and more convincing conference with Ed Barrow, the club secretary, Gomez was persuaded to accept a small increase in salary in recognition of his performance in winning 24 games last season, including seven out of eight starts against the Athletics. Barrow declined to say what figures the final agreement involved, but it was reported the slim southpaw ace of the world champions would draw around $15,000 for his 1933 activities.

Crowder Signs With Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—4P)—Alvin Crowder, dean of the Washington Senators' pitching corps and the American league's leader in victories last year, today signed his 1933 contract.

Brooklyn Contract.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(P)—The Brooklyn Dodgers, plagued the last few days by nothing but holdouts, today announced that Tony Cuccinello, the second baseman, had sent in his signed contract.

By Jimmy Jones.

That some disposition—either through release, sale or trade—must be made of at least eight veteran Class A players now on the Cracker roster if present plans for the club are carried out is apparent from a survey of the team's present personnel.

Although Business Manager Chick Roos has been instructed to proceed leisurely in the filing of waivers and subsequent releases of unclaimed Crackers, there is no gainsaying the fact that a majority of the men who wore Atlanta livery last sesson must pass on to other surroundings.

CHATHAM TO STAY.

CHATHAM TO STAY.

At the present writing, five Class A players who are counted on as regulars in the 1933 layout have been purchased and one of the old guard, Buster Chatham, shortstop, is favored to retain his post. That makes a list of six Class A players more or less certain to start with the Crack-MACON, Ga., Jan. 23.—(P)—Showing a complete reversal of form after their defeat at the hands of Georgia Tech in Atlanta Saturday night, Mercer's Bears, led by big Bob Smith and Joe Popeko. did everything right to night to defeat Georgia's Bulldogs, Southern conference champions last year, 40 to 34.

Georgia never did have the lead. The Bulldogs tied at 2-2 as they opened, but from then on the Bruins kept the advantage. The score at the half was Mercer 18, Georgia 14.

matter, also, Duck McKee and Freddie Sington are the two B outfield ers who will be carried to the Mobile training camp. Gordon Phelps at first backet is the B infield candidate and Ralph Butler, Philadelphia boy, is looked upon as the fair haired boy will capture the B catching assignment. Since club rosters are restricted to 16 players, that leaves only two B players to be taken care of and they are certain to land on the pitching staff.

THEY MUST 60.

THEY MUST GO. THEY MUST 60.

This deduction is the most plausible one at the moment and one is led to wonder what will become of the other Class A men who were left on the holdover roster from 1932. Even if Charley Moore carries all of them to the Mobile training camp, he must cut them off before the season opens.

Despite his greater reputation and advantage in experience, McMillen will have to travel at top speed throughout the match tonight to carry out his agreement. Zarnos, who slugged and kneed his way to a draw with Paul Harper here last week, is extremely rugged and can take worlds of punishment. He is a chance-taker, too, and ment. abandon his usual head-long style in favor of defensive tactics, which might comble him to stay the limit.

McMillen is well on the road toward another title match with Jim Londos, and has no idea of suffering a setback at this stage of the campaign. With the exception of a 30-minute draw with Joe Savoldi, the former Illinois grid star has won all his matches in recent months, and it is an oven question whether the text real chance at the crown will be given to him or to Pete Sauer.

Fans who enjoy the flying tackle, that most spectacular feature of the modern game, should get many thrills from the bout tonight for both McMillen and Zarnos use the tackle at every opportunity. It becomes largely a question of which will be the first to connect. McMillen has been informed of the Greek's readiness to make use of his fists and knees, and has promised the fans that he will do all that is necessary to protect himself.

In order to avoid the last-minute congestion which developed at the auditorium box office last week, fans are strongly urged to purchase their tickets in advance today at the Piedmont Hatters or the Miner & Carter Drug Company. The armory doors will be opened at 6:45 o'clock tonight so as to care for the large crowd expected as conveniently as possible.

Notable Events in State's History Recorded in Milledgeville Paper

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 23.† The paper's title is derived from Georgia's oldest weekly newspaper. The Union Recorder, of Milledgeville, not only will provide in its own existence one of the interesting parts of Georgia's bicentennial celebration, but its files will yield to the searcher many first-hand news items of events that are now part of the history of those 200 years.

The paper, which is now edited by R. B. Moore and his son. Jere N. Moore, was established in 1819. It has suspended publication only one has suspended publication only one week in more than a hundred years of consecutive publication, and that was when Sherman's army was en-camped in Milledgeville, and the type and printing press were hidden in the woods. The Recorder reported as news the visit of Lafayette to Milledgeville in 1825. and the banquet as disclosed by the files, was the reand other entertainments given in the moval of the capitol from Milledge-Frenchman's honor.

Court 'Awards' Body As Undertakers Clash

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 23.—(A)— Judicial decision was required to decide which undertaker could bury the body of an Augusta negro who left three insurance policies to funeral expenses.

One had been appointed administrator of the dead man's estate and he claimed the body by virtue of that.

Meanwhile, the other went ahead with funeral arrangements, contend-ing the administrator had no right to appoint himself undertaker. Each was as admant as the other, so than "took it to be."

they "took it to law."

Judge Joseph E. Bryson, of municipal court, settled the dispute by awarding the body to the adminis-trator with the stipulation that he reimburse his business rival for any expenses incurred in arranging the

Prize for Atlantan Who Retitles Picture

Can you write a title for a motion picture? If you can you have the opportunity of winning a prize of $10 in gold which The Constitution and the Georgia theater are offering for a new title to the picture "Parachute Jumper," coming to the Georgia for one week, starting Saturday. Immediately following a special pre-view of this picture theater men and press critics agreed that this was a bad title for such a splendid picture and would lead to the belief that the picture had to do with an air circus.

Whoever wrote the original title for this picture did not consider the fact that the picture is filled with fact that the picture is filled with plenty of romance, funny gags, snappy dialog and has just about everything that makes it entertainment for every man and woman. The cast of "Parachute Jumper" includes Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Bette Davis, Leo Carillo. Frank McHugh and many others.

In order to enter this Constitution-Georgia new title-writing contest it is only necessary that you witness a performance of the picture. Then after you see the picture ask the Georgia theater doorman for an official entry blank. Take this home with you, fill it out, then mail or leave at the Georgia theater.

The contest will close on Saturday. February 4. To the person writing what the judges believe to be a more suitable title for "Parachute Jumper" there will be awarded a prize of $10 in gold.

Tone of the Markets. CHICAGO. NEW YORK. TOCKS: Easy.

By JOHN L. COOLEY.
NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(R)—
Stocks had a rather poor start on the new week today. Hesitant during most of the morning, they pointed definitely lower after mid-day and although there was no indication of a nickup in volume, closing prices repcickup in volume, closing prices represented a fractional average decline. It was a dull market and one that again tended toward selectivity. Food again tended toward selectivity. Food equities softened, but coppers were burnished by a little professional buying toward the finish. The general list closed above the day's lows. Sales totaled 664.152 shares. Corporate bonds drifted. government securities firmed despite the inflationary talk that preimably exerted a renewal of pres-ire against dollars. Heaviness of dairy company shares reflected recent milk reductions in the metropolitan area. National Dairy was steadier, but General the metropolitan area. National Dairy was steadier, but General Foods and National Biscuit sagged moderately. Such industrials as United States Steel, American To-bacco "B," General Electric and du Pont were narrowly changed, though the down side was favored. Corn Products and American Can were firm. American Telephone dragged, off a major fraction net. United States Steel preferred, with a divi-dend meeting scheduled for next States Steel preferred, with a dividend meeting scheduled for next week, was steady.

Senator Borah's statement regarding budget balancing and inflation, as well as reports of a congressional undercurrent favoring some monetary change, appeared to have fostered selling of the dollar.

The money markets looked easier. Bill dealers cut acceptance yield rates

Bill dealers cut acceptance yield rates by 1-8 of 1 per cent to the lowest levels on record, and a little call money was offered below the accept-ed "outside" cost of half of 1 per cent. The stock exchange clung to 1 per cent.

the possibility of inflation is stressing the varied plans that either have been or are likely to be suggested and some quarters are pointing out that it might be difficult for congress to agree on a specific proposal.

Broker's opinion of the stock market is less uniformly bullish than a week or two back. Hopes for much of a rally are turning to the likeligood of a fair business recovery the next-two months or six weeks.

RECEIVER IS SOUGHT FOR R-K-OCORPORATION

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—(P)—A petition for the appointment of an equity receiver for the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation was filed in federal court today by Alfred West, holder of $. 600 in 6 per cent gold notes or bonds, in behalf of himself and all creditors similarly situated.

Foreign Markets

LONDON—Trading on the stock exchange at a ted the week with a quiet tone. Gold mining shares, industrials and foreign issues were lightly supported but scattered selling of gilt-edged securities, oil shares and trans-Atlantie issues caused an irregular closing. PARIS—The tone of the bourse was dull and prices were heavy awaiting month-end liquidation and the outcome of the efforts of the government to balance the budget. The closing was heavy.

BERLIN—Prices opened cheerful on the boerse but later turned irregular. The market closed weaker.

Sugar, Coffee, Rice.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—Raw sugar was nict today and no sales were reported. The un'ertone was steady and while reners showed interest in nearby sugars, icir ideas were not above last paid acrices 2.67, with nothing firmly offered below 70.

270.
There was little variation in futures with the market closing net unchanged to 1 point higher. The opening was irregular with January selling at an advance of 4 points, and later deliveries 1 point higher to 1 point lower. Later January gained another 2 points, selling up to 76.

Final nations

Final prices were at the best.

Havana dispatches were reported that resident Machado, of Cuba, signed the orece on production quotas, with the crop f 2000,000 tons including 1,115,000 for European unitries and 130,000 for local consumption, proximate sales were 8,000 tons. Janus clased 70, March 70, May 73, July 7, September 81 and December 84.

Refined was unchanged at 3,95 for fine ranulated.

follow the movements in stocks and wheat. March closed at 6.15, with the general market closing steady at net advances of 2 to 4 points.

First prices were unchanged to 2 points higher. The south was a moderate seller here on the bulge.

July sold from 6.42 to 6.36 with active months generally selling back to a couple of points below the closing quotations of last week. The market steadied later with one or two deliveries making new highs for the day. Closing quotations were within a point or two of the best.

Except for some hedging at the opening, which included selling by houses with cooperative connections, little pressure from the south was in evidence. The report of the census bureau placing ginnings prior to January 16 at 12,418,310 bales against 15.996,382 last year, was about in line with expectations.

ATLANTA.

The copening was slightly irregular and Liverpool cables were a shade better than due. Private cables reported that the market was dull, with scattered hedge selling offset by trade calling, but sentiment was hopeful on a favorable view of proposed debts discussion. Manchester cabled cloth and yarns were quiet with low offers. Port receipts, 25,833; for week, 85, 132; for season, 6,438,510; last season, 7,334,805. WOOL.

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—(United States Department of Agriculture)—Fine wools continue to comprise the bulk of the trade in the wool market in spite of some slowing up in the demand for these wools and some increase on mediums. Interest is centered on average and short combing 64s and finer wools, although an occasional call is received on strictly combing staple. Prompt delivery is an important feature of the current trade. Receipts of domestic wool at Soston during the week ending January 21. estimated by the Boston Grain and Flour Extenses. Sool week.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—There was some demand for contracts at the opening from the trade, both foreign and domestic, also from spot houses. The selling was by the south, New Orleans and co-operative brokers. Prices were a few points higher. After the call business tapered off and consisted largely of switching from March to later months. There was some southern selling, but the trade demans, was just sufficient to absorb this. Ginnings of 12,418,310 bales were about in line with expectations and had no market effect.

Grain Letters.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.
CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Everything in the way of wheat news was distinctly bullish and the market ignored it completely, showing actual weakness at one time but railying sufficiently before the close to recover the early loss. Liverpool cables were independently strong, influenced by world's shipments and increase in stocks on passage of about 3,00,000 bushels less than last year, the latter total now being about 3,00,000 bushels smaller also. The domestic visible supply decreased 3,393,000 bushels industry again there was no rainfall throughout the southwest over the week-end. Crop reports from Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Colorado and Nabtaska increasingly pessimistic, with predictions of very heavy acreage abandonment. We feel confident that news developments must eventually be reflected in higher prices and favor accumulation now.

BEER & CO.

CHICAGO, Jan. 23.—Wheat market was a rather small affair today, the extremely conflicting influences tending to restrict operations to a minimum and prices held within narrow limits around i cent up to the noon hour after which a little pressure developed and carried the May fractionally below 47 cents. Dust storms were reported in western Kansas and Nebraska over the weed-end and caused considerable comment on the part of the trade, but failed to induce any buying of consequence. The independent strength in Liverpool was also largely ignored and the talk of inflation in the currency indicated in Washington reports also failed to be a factor of consequence. World shipments were above 16,000,000 or slightly under the fotal of the previous week and nearly 3,000,000 short of a year ago. The relative strength in the English market was due to a better demand for nearly Manitobas. Export demand for the day was reported as relatively slow.

Except for some hedging at the opening, which included selling by houses with cooperative connections, little pressure from the south was in evidence. The report of the census bureau placing ginnings prior to January 16 at 12,418,310 bales against 15, 996,382 last year, was about in line with expectations.

Movie Stars Predict Trousers for Women

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 23.—(P)—The women of America will be wearing trousers instead of skirts for day-time costumes within the next 12 mouths, if the prophecies of several Hollywood stars come true.

The trouser fad was inaugurated locally several weeks ago by Marlene Dietrich when she appeared in the streets of Hollywood in mannishly tailored outfits. She even goes to the extent of wearing a tuxedo on semiextent of wearing a tuxedo on semi-extent of wearing a tuxedo on semi-formal occasions.

In defense of her startling attire, Miss Dietrich claims that being a well-dressed woman requires too much time and money and that trousers are far more comfortable than the long-skitted frocks of the moment.

"I see nothing amiss with woman

"I see nothing amiss with women wearing trousers," Carole Lombard declares. "There is but one objection to the idea, and that is the small minority of women who can wear trousers and still appear attractive." "We have been wearing, slacks for the last two years in Hollywood. Why the sudden hue and cry about trousers?" asked Glenda Farrell.

2 VICTIMS OF BANDITS TREATED AT GRADY

Two victims of bandit bullets were treated at Grady hospital early Monday morning when E. L. Burdett, 21, of 1319 DuPont avenue, received first-aid for a wound in his band, and Leron. Cills.

wound caused when a bullet grazed his back.

Burdett said he was on his way home when a negro baudit attempted to grapple with him on Boulevard drive, N. E., and that when he jerked away, the would-be bandit shot him. Gills said two negroes attempted to hold him up and that when he ran, they shot. The bullet plowed through his clothing and barely scratched his back.

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER. NEW YORK, Jan. 23 .- (A)-The curb market found little to get excited about in today's news and spent the time listlessly backing and filling. Transfers totaled 90,000 shares, the same as last Friday.

The oils were dull, but displayed a steady tone. Humble and Standard of steady tone. Humble and Standard of Indiana were slightly higher.

The utilities continued to draw the lion's share of what little activity was present, sagging slightly. Electric Bond & Share common was steady and the $6 preferred gained a point.

It was announced today that the Blue Ridge Corporation and Shenandesh directors, had recommended to doah directors had recommended to stockholders a plan to write down their investments to present-day prices. Their investments are now carried at cost. The proposal would place their investment on the basis of De-cember 31, 1932, prices, which, it was contended, would give a fairer picture of the trust's actual position.

Newmont gained 1 and Roan Antelope was fractionally higher.

New Jersey zinc was a little lower. The industrials were quiet, with aluminum gaining a scant fraction while Cord. Stutz, Decre and Swift eased slightly. The Ford issues were

UNFAVORABLE

AMUSEMENT NEWS.

A flood of unfavorable rumors relative to probable bankruptcies in the amusement business gained circula-tion early in the session and imparted a heavy undertone to this group. Only one of these rumors crystallized, when it was announced application had been made for the appointment of a receiver for the Radio-Keith-Orpheum Corporation.

The Street heard early in the day such action was pending and liberal selling of R.K.-O. stock followed and depressed the quotations which were already at receivership prices.

SILVER STOCKS STRONG. A few days ago it was stated here prominent Shanghai speculators who are usually successful in their operations have been steady buyers of silver metal. It was not surprising, therefore, when the price of silver advanced one-quarter of a cent per ounce and silver stocks showed increased activity at higher prices.

A good part of the buying of copper and silver issues came in the late dealings and originated with houses that usually do important European business.

Strength of the copper group is natural in conjunction with the betterment of silver prices as most copper producers also are substantial producers of the white metal.

Excerpts from an investment com-pany's prospectus and quotations from governmental and business leaders were cited to substantiate their claim that business groups are making plans to distribute legalized liquor from every soft drink stand if the prohibition laws are repealed or modified.

Bishop H. M. DuBose, of Nashville, styled as "a most appalling thing" the statement attributed to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in advising young girls to determine how much liquor they should drink. Four hundred persons attended the meeting, which was called by John F. Baggett, chairman of the general committee organized in Nashville.

GEORGIA'S PRISONS ARE GIVEN PRAISE BY CHASE OSBORN

Former Governor Chase S. Osborn, of Michigan, now a resident of Georgia, Monday came to the defense of the penal system of the state.

Mr. Osborn now lives on his estate in Worth county. From his home he adressed letters to Governor William A. Comstock and Attorney-General Patrick O'Brien, of Michigan, aying that the prison system of Georgia is on par with that of Michigan. Copies of the letters were sent to Governor Eugene Talmadge.

The letters were the outgrowth of Governor Comstock's recent refusal to grant the extradition of a negro escaped prison from Georgia, who testified that while in a Fulton county-prison camp he was treated inhuman-1 Ogden Gas 5s 45... 101 101 101 26 Ohlo Edis 5s 60... 955 952 952 951 0 Ohlo Pow 4is 55 D... 995 992 99 1 Ohlo Pub S 5s 5s 0... 875 875 875 875 7 Okia G & E 6s 40 A 785 7 875 875 7 Okia G & E 5s 50... 90 892 90 4 Oswego Falls 6s 41... 481 482 482

However, since that time Governor Talmadge has received a letter from Governor Comstock who explained tha the extradition was not granted because of any testimony on the part of the prisoner, but because Georgia's request for the negro's extradition did not comply with the laws of Michigan.

some time their sales tactics have been rather questionable, to put it mildly. Now they have bared their fangs and purpose to destroy all competition they can't Fabulous "discounts" and unheard-of "trade-in" allowances are their latest frantic barrages intended to wipe out independent dealers and leave themselves supreme to dictate future prices and policies. This strategy is as weak as it is ill-conceived, because we are prepared to meet all competitive prices on legitimate merchandise. We all lose through a demoralized tire market. Only car owners profit temporarily. Of course, this ruinous contest can't last long.

So, if you need tires, we urge you to buy them now. Get others' prices. Then, if you believe in a "live-and-let-live" policy, give us an opportunity to meet them on genuine Seiberlings, the pacemakers for 1933.
